FOREWORD

I am pleased to present the 2018–19 Annual Report for Lohardaga Gram Swarajya Sansthan (LGSS), which outlines the initiatives that have been brought changes in the lives of the people in need particularly the tribal and marginalized community.

LGSS, since its inception, strives to bring out the marginalised communities from the menace of under development. In this direction we had extended our support in implementation of different development programmes and initiatives in areas of education, livelihood and agriculture, natural resource management, women empowerment, social security etc.

This report demonstrates the vital role LGSS plays in these areas. Our work, supported by government, various national and international agencies and non-government organisations allows us to identify opportunities and explore possibilities for bringing positive changes in the lives of people of development devoid areas.

In the reporting year we have successfully implemented projects in the areas of child and adolescent development, education, health, women empowerment, social security & inclusion, livelihood promotion, natural resource management and sanitation which have been presented in the report. With the LGSS is very happy for its performance and is with the same spirit for the generations to come.

Looking ahead, LGSS will continue to expand the frontiers of where there is requirement of development intervention. We are creating an environment for synergistic efforts towards inclusive development in the in rural and underserved areas and induce positive impact in the lives of people.

We are deeply grateful to our funding and implementing partners, who champion our work by contributing to LGSS's regular resources, fund thematic and initiatives of national importance that allow us to test new ideas, and support us to adapt the best lessons learned and apply them for greatest impact. Also, we thank the people and community who came forward for their development and have been integral part of our development journey.
